Employees' State Insurance Corporation

New Delhi, the 13th April 1964

No. Genl/Amend/15—In exercise of the powers conferred by Section 97 of the Employees' State Insurance Act, 1948 (34 of 1948), the Employees' State Insurance Corporation hereby makes the following further amendments in the Employees' State Insurance (General) Regulations, 1960, the same having been previously published, as required by sub-section (1) of the said Section, namely:—

In the said Regulations :

In Regulation 72, the sub-clause (a) shall be substituted by the following:—

"(a)—at any time not later than twelve months, in cases where claim for temporary disablement benefit is made for an employment injury, from the date of the final certificate issued in respect of the spell of temporary disablement commencing on or immediately after the day of the occurrence of that injury, or from the date of the occurrence of an employment injury in cases where temporary disablement benefit not having been claimed claim for permanent disablement is made on the basis thereof, by the appropriate Regional Office at the instance of the disabled person or the employer or any recognised employees' union :

Provided that such reference may be made by the appropriate Regional Office after the expiry of the period prescribed as aforesaid if it is satisfied that the applicant was prevented by sufficient cause from applying for the making of the reference in time.

Provided further that in the event of the claim for Temporary Disablement Benefit being rejected by the Corporation but afterwards granted by the Employees' Insurance Court in respect of injuries resulted in Permanent Disablement, the limit of 12 months will apply from the date of the order of the Employees' Insurance Court granting the claim of the insured person for Temporary Disablement Benefit,
